

Principal's Message

The month of February brings two holidays for students. February 8 and February 26 are Staff Development Days for Edinburg CISD employees. Therefore, students will not have class on those days. Students, enjoy the 3-day weekends. Also, Johnny G. Economedes High School is having several important visits during the month. On February 3-4, JEHS will be visited by a SACS accreditation team to ensure that we are maintaining high standards for all of our students. Also, on February 18, we will be having an AVID Showcase visit for educators from other schools who want to see the college readiness initiatives that have made JEHS a National AVID Demonstration School. As always, students should be on their best behavior at all times and concentrate on their studies. I am proud to be your principal. Eastside-Strongside!

Attendance

Attendance Rewards will continue this semester. Students can expect a return of Ice Cream Tokens at the end of this six weeks which can be redeemed for lunchtime snacks. Also, after a successful first semester barbeque the attendance committee is already planning an end of the year barbeque for the students with the best second semester attendance. So keep up the excellent attendance students! Congratulations to the students who qualified for free Dodge ball tickets; we hope you enjoyed the game.

JEHS

Teacher of the Year

Congratulations to Mr. William Morley for being selected JEHS Teacher of The Year. Mr. Morley is an AVID teacher who stresses the importance of a college education with all his students. Also, he coaches the JEHS Masterminds Team and Academic Decathlon. Next up for Mr. Morley, he will compete for Edinburg CISD Secondary Teacher of The Year. Good Luck from your Jaguar family!
